-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 31 October 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

Art Unit: 1754

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16, 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the article by Sakata et al. Sakata et al disclose a method for the photocatalytic conversion of methanol by irradiating a suspension of the methanol and lead oxide with irradiation whose wavelength is longer than 420 nm. (See the Abstract.) The difference between the process disclosed by Sakata et al, and that recited in applicants' claims, is that Sakata et al do not disclose that the irradiation should be accomplished through laser radiation. It would be obvious to provide the irradiation in the process of Sakata et al by laser irradiation, since one of ordinary skill in the art would appreciate that any form of radiation could be used, so long as the wavelength is longer than 420 nm. There is no evidence on record of unexpected results which would emanate from the use of laser radiation, as opposed to other forms of radiation in the process of Sakata et al.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1754

Claims 1-16, 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over the article by Zabidi et al. No distinction is seen between the process disclosed by Zabidi et al, and that recited in claims 1-16, 23 and 24. Zabidi et al disclose a process for the photocatalytic generation of hydrogen from methanol in the presence of laser irradiation at wavelengths of 308, 313, 405 and 436 nm. (See the Abstract and Fig. 1 and its description.)

The other references are made of record for disclosing the photocatalytic generation of hydrogen.
